A VERY DISORDERED CHARACTER

Exodus 20:17, p. 66

Introduction:

1. The motivations of the heart push and pull us in many different directions and entail many different choices.
2. The matters of the heart can bring us into a much deeper and conscious relationship with God.
3. The Ten Commandments were designed to do the above.

I. A misdirected love

A. Taking a look in the mirror

B. Seeing a cheap imitation

II. Rising above the natural trait

A. A need to equip the saints

B. Coming to God with empty hands

Conclusion:

1. When our desires are for God we will continually come to the table of God for a feast of God's riches.
2. Truly, God's love is unrelenting as we are drawn to the cross, the empty tomb, and a future filled with hope and eternal life.
